

INTRODUCTION

This document is a compilation of free black entries in the federal censuses for Prince George's County, Maryland from 1790 to 1860. It was prepared by The Ottery Group, Inc., as part of a contract with The Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Prince George's County Planning Department, to document the history of antebellum plantations. Entries from each census year have been tabulated; each table is unique to a particular census year. The purpose of this document is to assist researchers focusing on the historically small, but significant, free black population in the county. If used in combination with other primary historical records such as maps, land records, tax records, etc., these tables represent a useful tool for genealogical and historical research, as well as for locating the physical remnants of the lives of the free blacks across the landscape of Prince George's County in the pre-civil war era.

RECORD DESCRIPTIONS

Article I, Section 2 of the Constitution of the United States outlines the role and composition of the House of Representatives. It also mandates a decennial enumeration of the population. The first census was taken in 1790 and one has followed every decade since. The information recorded in the federal census has changed considerably between 1790 and 1860, evolving from a simple accounting of households to a series of schedules recording each individual person as well as statistics for agricultural, industrial, and commercial output.

The following tables provide an enumeration of free black entries in the federal censuses for Prince George's County, Maryland. Table 1 summarizes the free black entries in the federal census by year and political division. The data contained in the subsequent census tables are transcribed without correction. The original handwritten documents from which these tables were derived are often difficult to decipher. When unintelligible, or nearly so, a question mark (?) indicates uncertainty.

Census of 1790

This census classified entries by household; only the name of the head of household was recorded along with the number of individuals residing in the household, divided by age, sex, and racial categories. These categories included: (1) "Free White Males of 16 Years and Upwards," (2) "Free White Males Under 16 Years," (3) "Free White Females," (4) "All Others," and (5) "Slaves." Free blacks are presumably counted in the "All Others" category. It is likely that other, non-free blacks were included in this category.

For Prince George's County, the 1790 census lists the head of household in alphabetical order, with some minor variations. As a result, little can be gleaned about the geographic distribution of households within the county. Each of the records containing one or more individuals classified in the "All Others" category is listed in Table 2. This table utilizes the data transcribed from the 1907 edition of the 1790 Census printed by the Government Printing Office.

Census Of 1800

Like its predecessor, the Census of 1800 enumerated individuals by household, recording only the name of the head-of-household, and categorizing the inhabitants of that household. The 1800 census included categories not used in 1790. The categories for households in 1800 consisted of: (1) "Free White Males Under Ten Years of Age," (2) "Free White Males of Ten and Under Sixteen," (3) "Free White Males of Sixteen and Under Twenty Six Including Heads of Households," (4) "Free White Males of Twenty Six and Under Forty Five Including Heads of Households," (5) "Free White Males of Forty Five and Older Including Heads of Households," (6) "Free White Females Under Ten Years of Age," (7) "Free White Females of Ten and Under Sixteen," (8) "Free White Females of Sixteen and Under Twenty Six Including Heads of Households," (9) "Free White Females of Twenty Six and Under Forty Five Including Heads of Households," (10) "Free White Males of Forty Five and Older Including Heads of Households," (11) "All Other Free Persons Except Indians Not Taxed," and, (12) "Slaves."

Table 3 consists of all records containing one or more entry in the "All Other Free Persons Except Indians Not Taxed" category. Unlike the Census of 1790, the 1800 census is not alphabetized. However, it does not specify any political division by either hundred or electoral district. It is likely that the order in which entries are listed corresponds to the order in which the households were visited. Therefore, it may be possible to establish the general location of free households based on the names of those living in close proximity. This information may be accessible through other primary sources, in particular annual tax records.

The information provided in Table 3 was transcribed from images of the original 1800 census available through Ancestry.com (subscription required). This record appears complete.

Census of 1810

The Census of 1810 is the first geo-politically organized census. Entries are grouped into batches consisting of two or three hundreds, referring to a geographic district or region within the county. The groupings consist of: (1) Collington and Western Branch (abbreviated C, WB), (2) Horsepen and Patuxent (H, P), (3) King George and Grub (KG, G), (4) New Scotland, Oxon, and Bladensburg (NS, O, B), (5) Piscataway and Hynson (P, H), (6) Rock Creek and Eastern Branch (RC, EB), (7) Upper Marlboro, Charlotte, and Mount Calvert (UM, Ch, MC), and (8) Mattaponi, Washington, and Prince Frederick (M, W, PF). This information allows for a slightly better understanding of where free black households were distributed geographically across the county.

The age, sex, and race divisions for persons within the household remain unchanged from 1800. Accordingly, although it is possible to generate significant demographic information for free whites, the nature of the record limits this ability for the slave and free black populations.

Table 4 contains every entry in the 1810 census with one or more individuals listed in the "All Other Free Persons" category. This information was transcribed from images of the original census available through Ancestry.com. The census summary for 1810 lists a total of 4,929 free black individuals in Prince George's County, an unusually high number compared to the overall population. The records transcribed from the original images included only 814 free black individuals. There are, however, large gaps between page numbers. Although the lack of free black entries on several pages accounts for some of these gaps, given the discrepancy between the number of free blacks in the census summary and the number of free blacks contained in the original record images, it is likely that the 1810 census is incomplete.

Census of 1820

The 1820 Census contains several categories not included in previous years. Entries remained organized by heads of households. However for the first time, free blacks and slaves within households are classified by sex and further divided into age categories. Additionally, information is provided indicating the number of individuals in each household that are foreigners not naturalized, as well as the number of persons engaged in agriculture, commerce, and manufacturing. This also represents the first census organized by election district, which replaced the hundreds divisions that were used during preceding years. These districts are: Vansville, Bladensburg, Marlboro, Queen Anne, Nottingham, Piscataway, and Spauldings.

Table 5 contains entire entries for households containing at least one free black individual. This list was compiled from images of the original census available through Ancestry.com. The number of free blacks listed in Table 5 closely approximates the total number of free blacks listed in the 1820 census summary, available from the Maryland State Archives (MSA), Beneath the Underground website (www.mdslavery.net). Accordingly, this record is considered complete or nearly complete.

Census of 1830

The 1830 federal census for Prince George's County is not available, although a summary of this census is available from the MSA, Beneath the Underground website. This summary indicates that a total of 1,202 free blacks resided in Prince George's County in 1830. Of this number, 616 were females; the remaining 586 were male.

Census of 1840

The census of 1840, like its predecessors, contains only the names of heads of households. Table 6 contains all entries that indicate at least one free black individual resident. The table was generated from data available through MSA, Beneath the Underground website. The online database includes only the portions of the census indicative of the names of the head of household and the age and sex of free blacks and slaves. Only this information is provided. Likewise, as this information was obtained through an online database, the exact name order may differ from that in the original source. Unlike the original census, the MSA database places the counts of slaves in columns preceding those enumerating free blacks; this has been retained in this document.

This census was again organized by electoral district. There is a small discrepancy between the number of free black individuals contained in the MSA database and the total number in the census summary available through the same website. This discrepancy may represent lost data or errors in the calculation of the original census summary. Nonetheless, Table 6 is considered a nearly complete record.

Censuses of 1850 and 1860

The information in Tables 7 and 8 was generated from data available from the MSA, Beneath the Underground website. The censuses of 1850 and 1860 contain nearly identical information. These censuses include the name of every individual, not exclusively the head of household. The sex and age of every individual, rather than age groupings, are also provided. The record contains the race for every person, classified as white, black, or mulatto. Additional categories include information regarding profession, property value, education, literacy, ability to hear, and ability to speak. Data regarding literacy have been omitted from Tables 7 and 8. Any infirmities recorded in the census have been recorded in a "Comments" column; this column is not original to the 1850 and 1860 censuses. If free blacks resided in white households, the name of the white head-of-household is recorded in the "Comments" column. This information is not attainable through a search of the Beneath the Underground website, but was provided as part of the M-NCPPC review.

Based on the number of free black individuals contained within this database compared to the number of free blacks on the respective census summaries, the record is considered complete. However, because this information was retrieved from an online database, entries are not necessarily in the order recorded in the censuses. The tables presented herein have been organized according to district, then by household and dwelling number. The Aquasco District (Number 8) first appears in 1850; the Surrats District (Number 9) first appears in 1860.

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 7: Free Blacks—1850 Census

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 7: Free Blacks—1850 Census

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 7: Free Blacks—1850 Census

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 7: Free Blacks—1850 Census

The 1850 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco.

The 1850 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octoroon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 8: Free Blacks—1860 Census

The 1860 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco (9) Surratts.

The 1860 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octozen). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

The 1860 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco (9) Surratts.

The 1860 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octozen). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 8: Free Blacks—1860 Census

The 1860 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco (9) Surratts.

The 1860 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octo-roon). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.

Table 8: Free Blacks—1860 Census

The 1860 Census districts include (1) Vansville, (2) Bladensburg, (3) Marlboro, (4) Nottingham, (5) Piscataway, (6) Spauldings, (7) Queen Anne, (8) Aquasco (9) Surratts.

The 1860 Census notes the color of an individual as White (W), Black (B), or Mulatto (M). Broadly, the term Mulatto signified mixed race. Legal definitions determined color based on percents of racial composition (e.g., Quadroon, Octozen). However, in the context of the census, Mulatto likely identified lighter-skinned African Americans.
